

Integrated Wall Bed Systems

Integrated wall bed systems are designed to be built into purpose built cabinets to create the stunning 'Hideaway effect', where you have the appearance of beautifully fitted bedroom which springs out to form a bed in less than 20 seconds. The patented counter-sprung mechanism takes the weight of the bed & mattress, and when folded away, the bed & cabinet typically sit only 53cm from the wall, allowing space to work or play.

Hideaway beds can supply the wall bed frame & mechanism only or provide a complete furniture and wall bed solution.

The Foldaway System

The Foldaway bed is designed to have a single door attached to the base of the bed via a sub-frame. The leg sits inside the bed when folded away, but when in use the leg is manually folded over the foot-end of the bed and sits on the underside to support the bed when in the down position. The Foldaway bed has an adjustable sprung mechanism which gives a safe, light and easy lifting action.

The Hideaway System

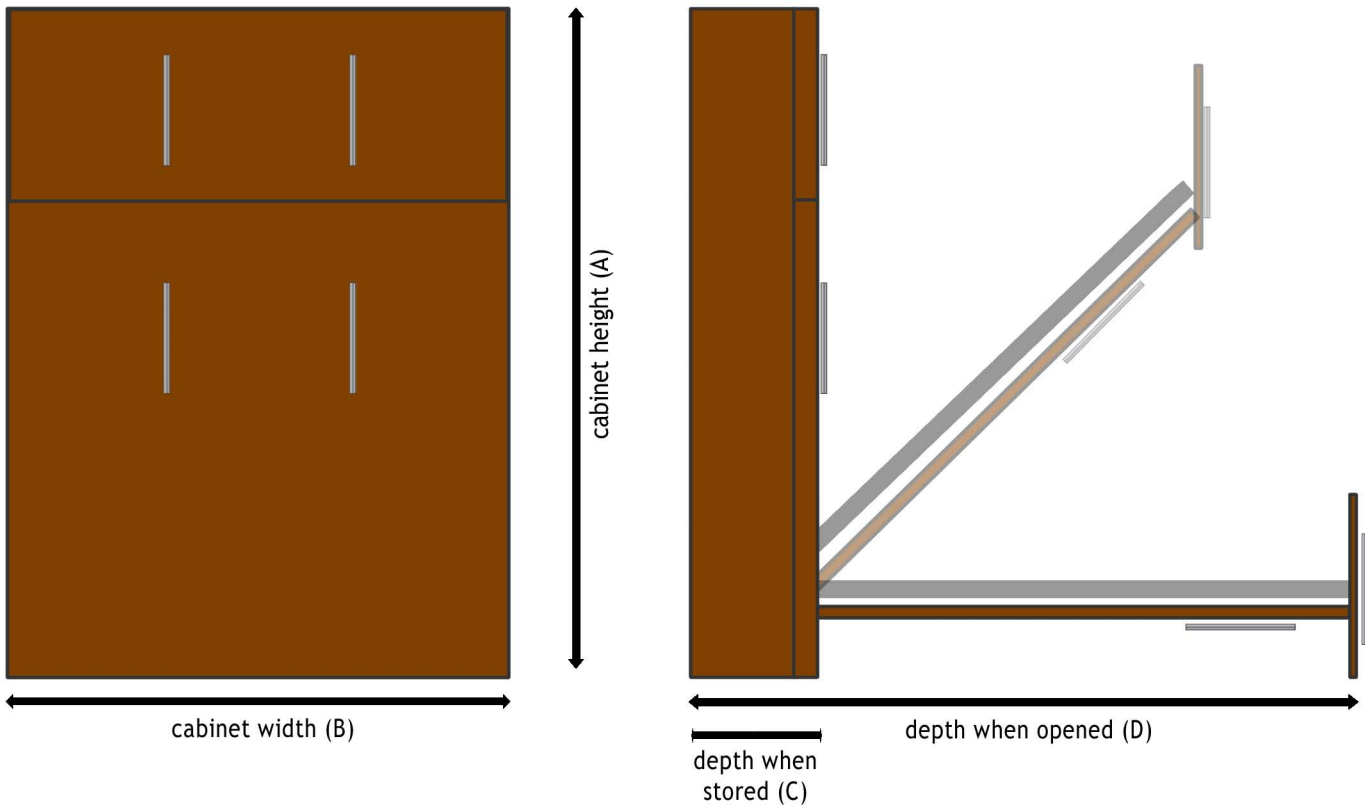

The Hideaway bed is our top of the range system which is designed to have a two-piece door. It has been designed so the doors are attached to the base of the bed and with the combination of the sub-frame allows an automatic leg to pivot, with the top doors forming a footboard when the bed is pulled down. The Hideaway bed has an adjustable sprung mechanism which gives a safe, light and easy lifting action.

Installation

Integrated beds are not for DIY assembly. The bed must be assembled and installed into a purpose built cabinet by a competent Carpenter/ Joiner using the appropriate technical specification.

Please note: wall bed frames and mechanisms are illustrated with cabinets and doors (purchased separately) for demonstration purposes only - for matching cabinets and wall bed furniture, please refer to our furniture product sheet.
